I do not propose this evening to dwell at length upon the question, Why men do not go to church? except so far as the answer thereto relates to the character and conduct of the men who are already there. Possibly I can find no better text for my discourse than that which I incorporated in the report made by me as Chairman of the Standing Committee on the Brotherhood to the last General Assembly. It was the definition of the Brotherhood given by Rev. Maitland Alexander, D.D., at one of the popular meetings, and is as follows: The idea of the Brotherhood is to arouse the conscience and to stimulate men to perform the duties and fulfill the vows which they voluntarily took upon themselves when they united with the church.
