Not illustrated. 1896 Excerpt: .was made in the following headings: In some cases much greater progress than given in the above table was made for a short period of time. In the south heading from shaft 15, Paige, Cary Co., the superintendents (sub-contractors) for section 7 drove the tunnel through hard, fine-grained gneiss 102 feet in 13 shifts during one week (February 19 to 26, 1887). Only the usual force of men were employed. Three Rand Slugger drills were used. The holes were charged with rackarock. A blast was fired in each shift. When the tunnel, driven north from shaft 16, reached the rock in which the great run mentioned above had been made in the south heading from shaft 15, Denton, Breuchaud Co., the superintendents for section 8, made an effort to surpass the record of their neighbors, to prove the merits of the system of tunnelling they had adopted. They succeeded in driving their heading 127 feet in a week (14 shifts), a progress which we believe has never been surpassed in similar rock. The trial was made during the week ending July 23, 1887. The contractors divided their working force into two 12-hour shifts, allowing to each two extra men to help in jacking up the drills and four extra muckers. During the whole week the work was never allowed to stop, only part of the men leaving the tunnel at a time for their meals. The crews of the drills worked enthusiastically to make the best...
