Theyre entitled to receive an education but no one has worked out how to provide that education. -Senator Evie Hudak, D-Westminster, ColoradoIt is refreshing to see information and concerns navigated towards our unique situation. It is not often that I find information specific to what we are doing. -Robert Leyrer, Correctional Educator and Special Education CoordinatorWould you model success after a school that looks and feels like a prison In Unlocking Potential award-winning educator Hilderbrand Pelzer III shows corrections professionals, teachers, and educators of all levels how to make superior educational services for incarcerated school-age youths a priority as they await trials as adults. Having sharpened his expertise in one of the largest urban county jail systems in the United States, Pelzer presents a successful approach to confronting the legal, logistical, and educational dilemmas that have thwarted most programs dealing with the education of incarcerated school-age youths in county jail systems across the country. Pelzer examines the assumptions that have existed about the capacities and capabilities of schools in prisons and he offers a successful reform model that focuses on solutions. Unlocking Potential stresses the power of education and the importance of leadership. Professionals working with incarcerated school-age youths can use this book to review their educational practices; examine their assumptions about the capacities and capabilities of schools in prisons; plan action to overcome legal, logistical, and educational dilemmas; design schools that align with a deliberate correctional education purpose; and raise educational dialogue to the level that such work merits. This timely book emphasizes how education can and should play a prominent role in all institutions that are responsible...
